

AEI'S Mark Perry: Legacy Carriers Should Compete, Not Complain

"As often happens when companies become entrenched oligopolies, the Big 3 are fighting to limit competition. Instead of fighting in the marketplace for consumers' hard-earned money, they are lobbying the government for protection; complaining about 'unfair' subsidies, 'unfair' advantages, and 'unfair' competition."

— Mark Perry, *Washington Examiner

12/21/17

Perry is a Scholar at the American Enterprise Institute and a professor of economics and finance at the University of Michigan's Flint Campus.